SUMMARY

As a third-year Ravenshaw University BSc IT and Management student, I have practical experience with Python, basic C++, and SQL. I've worked with a variety of Python libraries, earned a certification in artificial intelligence and machine learning from CTTC, Bhubaneswar, and developed an end-to-end machine learning web application called SMS Spam Classifier, which I then deployed on Render. I take pleasure in solving problems, pick things up quickly, and remain committed to getting better through hands-on work.
